Pianist and educator Dr. Paulo Steinberg will present a lecture/recital on Brazilian music. He writes:

“Brazilian music is often associated with carnival and samba, played at lively, energetic tempi, with vibrant rhythms. But melancholy and nostalgia also play a big role in the music of Brazil. Inspired by the natural exuberance and beauty of their country, Brazilian composers use lyricism to portray the varying colors, characters and landscapes. The lecture/recital will take you on a musical journey, showing how Ernesto Nazareth and Heitor Villa-Lobos let “the rivers and seas of this great Brazil sing.”

Paulo’s CD Alma Brasileira will be offered for sale after the event.
